IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON AT SEATTLE

SLAUGHTER MOTIN OBET, as Personal Representative of the Estate of Isaiah Obet, and on his own behalf,

Plaintiffs,

v.

CITY OF AUBURN, WASHINGTON,
and OFFICER JEFFREY NELSON,

Defendants.

No. 20 CV 883

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, SLAUGHTER MOTIN OBET, as Personal Representative of the ESTATE OF ISAAH OBET, and on his own behalf, by and through his attorneys, alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. Isaiah Obet—a loving son, brother, and integral member of his community—should be alive today. Instead, at the age of 25, Isaiah’s life was tragically and unjustifiably ended through an act of homicide by the City of Auburn Police Department Officer Jeffrey Nelson.

2. Officer Nelson should not have been on patrol the day he killed Isaiah.
Prior to Isaiah’s death, Nelson had engaged in a pervasive pattern of excessive force and misconduct that the City of Auburn not only ignored but specifically endorsed.

1 Instead of disciplining, re-training, or otherwise discouraging Nelson, the City
2 tacitly approved his methods, and through its policies, practices and customs,
3 caused this tragedy.

4 3. Though nothing can ever bring Isaiah Obet back, and no form of 5 redress can fully compensate his loved ones for his loss, this action seeks to hold
6 accountable those responsible for the violations of constitutional and state-law
7 rights of not only Isaiah Obet, but others harmed by the Defendants actions:
8 Isaiah's family, friends, and, in the end, all residents of the City of Auburn.

9 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10 4. This Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' federal claims pursuant to 11 28 U.S.C §§ 1331 and 1343.

12 5. This Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' state law claims pursuant to 13 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

14 6. Venue is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b). On information and belief, 15 Defendant Nelson resides in this judicial district and the events and omissions 16 giving rise to the claims asserted herein all occurred within this district.

17 PARTIES

18 7. Slaughter Motin Obet is the brother of the late Isaiah Obet, the 19 Personal Representative of the Estate of Isaiah Obet, a former resident of Auburn, 20 Washington now living in Oregon. Slaughter Obet is a party to this action as the 21 personal representative of Isaiah Obet's estate and further asserts claims on his 22 own behalf.

23 8. Isaiah Obet was twenty-five (25) years old when he was killed by 24 Defendant Jeffrey Nelson.

25 9. Defendant Jeffrey Nelson is a police officer for the City of Auburn. At 26 all times relevant to this action, Defendant Nelson was acting under color of law 27

1 and as an agent of the City of Auburn, and acting within the scope of his 2 employment.

3 10. Defendant City of Auburn is a municipal corporation located in the 4 Western District of Washington, which operates the Auburn Police Department (the 5 “APD” or “Department”), and sets city-wide policy for the conduct of police officers
6 employed by the Department.

7 FACTS

8 The Killing of Isaiah Obet

9 11. On June 10, 2017, at approximately 12:20pm, Auburn dispatch
10 received a call of a man acting strangely in North Auburn near 23rd Street, and 11 possibly holding a small pocket knife.

12 12. This person was later identified as Isaiah Obet.

13 13. Around the same time, Defendant Nelson was working as a K-9
14 handler, and was patrolling in the area.

15 14. When Defendant Nelson heard dispatch communicate the incident, he 16 began driving his marked APD patrol car towards the reporting party’s address.

17 15. At approximately 12:25pm, Defendant Nelson claims he saw Isaiah 18 walking westbound on 21st Street. Nelson was driving in the opposite direction.

19 16. Defendant Nelson claims he lost sight of Isaiah, turned his car around,
20 and eventually found Isaiah at the intersection of 21st and D Street.

21 17. Defendant Nelson pulled over and parked on the side of the road.

22 18. After Defendant Nelson pulled over, Nelson claims he saw Isaiah ran 23 towards an SUV turning right on D Street, try to open the driver’s side door with 24 his left hand, and begin to knock on the driver’s side window with this right.

25 19. Isaiah was not saying anything, but was obviously exhibiting signs of 26 mental distress.

27 20. Defendant Nelson then exited his patrol car and approached Isaiah.

1 21. As he did so, and before Isaiah could have responded to the officer's
2 presence, Defendant Nelson released his K-9 dog from his vehicle and decided to sic
3 the dog on Isaiah.

4 22. The K-9 followed orders, attacked Isaiah, and latched on to his arm.

5 23. While Isaiah was being attacked by the dog, he did not exhibit any 6 threatening behavior to Officer Nelson or anyone else. Instead, he was trying to 7 dislodge the dog that had latched on to his arm

8 24. As Isaiah was struggling with and being subdued by the K-9, 9 Defendant Nelson unholstered his service weapon—a .45 caliber, semi-automatic 10 pistol—instead of the taser that he was armed and equipped to use. Nelson pointed 11 the firearm at Isaiah.

12 25. These acts were unreasonable, negligent, and reckless; failed to follow 13 accepted police practices; and unreasonably escalated the likelihood that the 14 encounter would result in a use of unnecessary deadly force.

15 26. At that time, Obet posed no threat to Defendant Nelson to anyone else.

16 27. Nonetheless, Defendant Nelson fired his gun. This shot hit Isaiah in 17 the torso, but was likely non-fatal.

18 28. Isaiah fell to the ground, having at this point been shot once and 19 severely bitten by a trained police dog.

20 29. Isaiah did not attempt to stand up. He did not attempt to flee. Instead,
21 at this point, Isaiah was completely subdued by Nelson and his dog.

22 30. Lying on the ground, with a bullet wound to his torso, and a K-9
23 having mauled him, Isaiah posed no threat to Defendant Nelson or anyone else.

24 31. Defendant Nelson knew that Isaiah posed no threat and had been 25 subdued and “taken down” by his prior actions.

1 32. Nonetheless, as Isaiah lay on the ground, Defendant Nelson walked 2 over to Isaiah, aimed his gun at him a second time, and fired a shot directly into 3 Isaiah's head as he stood above him.

4 33. This gunshot was completely unjustified.

5 34. This gunshot, which perforated Isaiah's skull and brain, was fatal.

6 35. After the dog had latched to his arm, at no point was it reasonable for 7 Nelson to believe that Isaiah posed an imminent threat of serious bodily harm to 8 Nelson or anyone.

9 36. At no point after the dog had latched to his arm, did Isaiah do
10 anything that a reasonable officer would believe posed an imminent threat of death
11 or serious bodily harm sufficient to justify the use of deadly force by Defendant
12 Nelson.

13 37. Indeed, Isaiah's death via Defendant Nelson's second shot shocks the 14 conscience. It was unconscionable for Defendant Nelson to kill Isaiah Obet by 15 shooting him execution style in the head, particularly after Isaiah had already been 16 shot and was lying on the ground.

17 38. Within minutes of Defendant Nelson's second shot, various APD
18 Officers and first responders swarmed the scene, but it was too late. Isaiah Obet 19 has already passed, and was pronounced dead at the scene.

20 Defendant Jeffrey Nelson's History of Excessive Force

21 39. During his time as an APD officer, Defendant Nelson has 22 demonstrated an extensive history of excessive force.

23 40. In the past nine years, he has been involved in at least sixty-five use of 24 force incidents. Many of those incidents occurred prior to Isaiah's death in 2017.

25 41. Shockingly, of the five officer-involved shootings carried out by APD
26 officers since 2011, Defendant Nelson committed three of them.

27

1 42. This first fatal shooting occurred in 2011, when Defendant Nelson shot
2 and killed an Auburn citizen—Brian Scaman—during a traffic stop. Like Isaiah,
3 Defendant Nelson shot Mr. Scaman in of the head.

4 43. Defendant Nelson was placed on administrative leave following this 5 use of deadly force, as was routine for officer-involved shootings within the APD. He 6 was not otherwise disciplined, reassigned, or retrained as a result.

7 44. In fact, upon information and belief, Defendant Nelson was not
8 disciplined, reassigned, or retrained following any of his many use of force incidents.
9 As a consequence of the Department's lack of disciplinary action, Defendant Nelson
10 understood that, pursuant to the policies, practices, and customs of the Department,
11 he could use unconstitutional force against citizens with virtual impunity.

12 45. That is precisely what happened during the killing of Isaiah Obet.
13 Defendant Nelson used excessive, deadly force against Isaiah.

14 46. After the shooting, Officer Nelson later falsely claimed that Isaiah had 15 advanced on him before the first shot, and even continued to threaten him with a 16 pocket knife after having been shot once and while he was on the ground. Nelson 17 also claimed that the dog bit Isaiah after the second shot, rather than before any 18 shooting began.

19 47. These statements were untrue.

20 48. In addition, Nelson's account conflicts with uninvolved witness
21 statements, confirming that the dog had been sic-ed on Isaiah before any shots were 22 fired, and that Obet was on the ground, not threatening the officer, when the second 23 shot was fired.

24 49. Nelson's account, described above, was also contradicted by the 25 physical evidence.

26 50. Nelson's account, described above, was also inconsistent with his first 27 statements, made immediately after the shooting.

1 51. Nonetheless, Nelson knew that, pursuant to the Department's customs 2 and practices, his use of deadly force would not be met with discipline or reprimand,
3 and that his actions would be ratified by the department, even if they were not
4 corroborated by witnesses or physical evidence, and even if they were internally
5 contradictory.

6 52. The City of Auburn took no steps to address or even attempt to rectify
7 the discrepancies between Nelson's account, on the one hand, and the witness 8 statements and physical evidence, on the other.

9 53. The City of Auburn also took no steps to address or even attempt to 10 rectify the discrepancies between Nelson's multiple accounts.

11 54. Having again been exonerated, and the Department failing to have 12 taken any corrective steps, Defendant Nelson remained on the force and 13 emboldened.

14 55. Unsurprisingly, Nelson would use unjustified deadly force again. In 15 2019, Defendant Nelson shot and killed Jesse Sarey with two distinct, familiar 16 gunshots.

17 56. As with Isaiah, Sarey was completely subdued after having been shot.

18 57. Nonetheless, Nelson again fired a second, unconscionable and fatal, 19 gunshot.

20 58. Despite the Department's awareness of Defendant Nelson's
21 predilection for excessive and deadly force, he remains an officer in good standing.

22 Auburn Is Responsible for Isaiah Obet's Unjustified Death

23 59. Defendant Nelson's history of force-incidents put the City of Auburn on 24 notice that he was likely to use force that would be excessive and deadly.

25 60. In fatally shooting Isaiah Obet, Defendant Nelson failed to use
26 ordinary care to avoid unreasonably escalating the encounter to the use of deadly 27 force, including by unholstering and pointing his firearm after his K-9 had already

1 latched onto Isaiah, by firing the first shot at Isaiah even though he was not 2 threatening the officer, and then by firing a second fatal shot after Isaiah had been 3 subdued and was laying on the ground already shot once.

4 61. These actions were unreasonable, negligent, and reckless, and they 5 failed to follow accepted police standards. The City of Auburn is liable for these 6 negligent actions by its officers, which foreseeably resulted in the unreasonable use
7 of deadly force on Isaiah Obet.

8 62. The City of Auburn was deliberately indifferent to the fact that its 9 inadequate and reckless policies, procedures, customs and supervision were the 10 moving force behind Nelson using unnecessary and unreasonable force.

11 63. Furthermore, the City of Auburn has failed to implement any 12 mechanisms that would have prevented Nelson's excessive acts, including but not 13 limited to providing minimally adequate supervision at an appropriate command 14 level, and enforcing established policies and rules.

15 64. Ultimately, the City of Auburn should not have retained Defendant
16 Nelson as a sworn police officer. After they hired him, the City deliberately ignored 17 numerous red flags and encouraged his misconduct, without attempting to 18 supervise, retrain, reassign, or discipline him in any way.

19 65. The City's failure to train, discipline, or supervise Defendant Nelson
20 led to Isaiah Obet's death, in violation of his constitutional rights.

21 66. The City of Auburn's ratification of this shooting continues and its 22 failure to take corrective action reflects its deliberate indifference to the danger of 23 constitutional violations and physical harm its policies and practices create.

24 67. Upon information and belief, City of Auburn has not implemented any 25 changes that would fix the flaws in the policies and customs described above.

26 68. Auburn's policymakers' refusal to scrutinize the inconsistent
27 statements of Defendant Nelson and contrast that to the physical evidence is part

1 and parcel of the City's continued deliberate indifference to the risks created by its 2 inadequate training, supervision, and discipline of police officer, like Nelson, who 3 use excessive force or foreseeably create situations likely to lead to great bodily 4 harm, injury, or even death.

5 Plaintiffs' Immense Damages

6 69. Isaiah was a son, brother, and integral member of his community when 7 he was killed, at only 25 years old. He had decades of life left to live, and the wide
8 landscape of his life ahead of him. However, because he was killed, he will never 9 have a chance to pursue his life's ambitions, to raise a family, or plan for the future.
10 The loss of his life itself was immeasurable.

11 70. The Defendants' actions imposed substantial harm on Isaiah Obet
12 during the period of time after he was shot by Defendant Nelson until he ultimately 13 passed way. The excruciating pain and fear Isaiah felt during his final moments is 14 unquantifiable.

15 71. As a proximate result of the Defendant's unlawful conduct described 16 above, the Estate of Isaiah Obet has incurred medical and funeral expenses, lost 17 earnings and earning capacity, suffered physical and emotional pain, suffering, and 18 disfigurement, lost liberty, lost the enjoyment of life. In addition, both the Estate of 19 Isaiah Obet and Slaughter Obet have suffered other special and general damages.

1 CLAIMS

2 Count I – Fourth Amendment

3 72. Each of the Paragraphs in this Complaint is incorporated as if 4 restated fully herein.

5 73. As described in the preceding paragraphs, the conduct of Defendant
6 Jeffrey Nelson toward Isaiah Obet constituted excessive force in violation of the 7 Fourth Amendment of the United States Constitution.

8 74. The misconduct described in this Count was objectively unreasonable
9 and undertaken with willfulness and reckless indifference to the rights of others.

10 75. The conduct described in this Count was undertaken pursuant to the 11 policies, practices, and customs of City of Auburn, such that the City is liable in the 12 following ways:

- 13 a. The City, through its tacit approval of the Defendant Nelson's actions, 14 has ratified his conduct, and thereby shown that Defendant Nelson acted 15 pursuant to and in a manner consistent with the policies, customs, and 16 practices of the City.
- 17 b. As a matter of both policy and practice, the City encouraged, and was 18 thereby the moving force behind, the misconduct at issue here by failing 19 to adequately train, supervise, control, and discipline its officers such 20 that its failure to do so has manifested deliberate indifference;
- 21 c. As a matter of both policy and practice, the City of Auburn has 22 facilitated the very type of misconduct at issue here by failing to 23 adequately investigate, punish, and discipline prior instances of similar 24 misconduct, thereby foreseeably leading its officers to believe that their 25 actions will never be meaningfully scrutinized and, in that way, directly
26 encouraging future uses of excessive deadly force such as those Plaintiff 27 complains of;

- 1 d. The Auburn Police Department's failure to meaningfully investigate 2 police misconduct and control its officers is further illustrated by its 3 handling of Officer Nelson's many prior use-of-force incidents, including 4 this shooting. Officer Nelson was not disciplined for any of these 5 incidents, and has remained on full active duty throughout his career;
- 6 e. In fact, the Auburn Police Department encouraged Defendant Nelson to 7 feel he could act with impunity by repeatedly declining to discipline him 8 for infractions of many kinds throughout his career;
- 9 f. The City of Auburn should be held liable for the unconstitutional actions
10 of its officers engaged in as agents of the City, consistent with the 11 common law as understood in 1871.

12 76. As a result of City of Auburn's actions, policies and practices, and the 13 unjustified and unreasonable conduct of Defendant Nelson, Plaintiffs suffered 14 injuries, including pain, suffering, emotional distress, and death.

15 Count II—Fourteenth Amendment (Due Process)

16 77. Each paragraph of this Complaint is incorporated as if fully restated
17 herein.

18 78. In the manner described more fully above, Defendant Nelson, under 19 color of law and within the scope of his employment, shot and killed Isaiah Obet,
20 depriving him of liberty, in violation of his rights secured by the Fourteenth 21 Amendment.

22 79. As described more fully above, Defendant Nelson's second gunshot 23 shocks the conscience and involved truly egregious and unreasonable actions by 24 him, which caused the death of Isaiah Obet.

25 80. The misconduct described in this Count was objectively unreasonable
26 and was undertaken intentionally, with reckless indifference to the rights of others,
27 and in total disregard of the life of Isaiah Obet.

1 81. As a result of Defendant Nelson’s misconduct described in this Count,
2 Isaiah suffered injuries, including but not limited to physical injury, loss of liberty,
3 emotional distress, and ultimately death.

4 Count III — State Law, Negligence

5 82. Each of the paragraphs of this Complaint is incorporated as if fully
6 stated here.

7 83. The City of Auburn, through its officers, owes a duty of care to persons
8 with whom they foreseeably interact in a planned, police-initiated operation
9 involving the likely use of deadly force, to take reasonable care so not to cause 10 foreseeable harm in the course of such law enforcement interactions.

11 84. The City of Auburn owed such a duty to Isaiah Obet and the actions of 12 its agent and officer, Defendant Nelson, breached that duty.

13 85. This breach proximately caused Isaiah Obet’s severe injury and death, 14 as described and alleged above.

15 86. The City of Auburn is liable to the Estate of Isaiah Obet for the 16 negligent actions of its officers which proximately caused him injury and death.

17 87. The City of Auburn is liable to Plaintiff Slaughter Obet for the 18 deliberately indifferent, reckless and negligent actions of its officer which 19 proximately caused injury to his brother and destroyed their relationship.

20 Count IV—State Law, Assault and Battery

21 88. Each of the paragraphs of this Complaint is incorporated as if fully
22 stated here.

23 89. In the manner described more fully above, Defendant Nelson
24 intentionally and impermissibly harmed, wounded, and ultimately killed Isaiah 25 Obet, actions with amount to assault and battery under Washington law.
26
27

1 90. The misconduct described in this Count was intentional and
2 undertaken with malice, willfulness, and reckless indifference to the rights of
3 others.

4 91. As a result of these actions, Isaiah Obet suffered severe injuries,
5 including physical pain, emotional distress, and ultimately death.

6 92. This Count is brought by the Estate of Isaiah Obet, by personal
7 representative Slaughter Obet.

8 Count V—State Law, Survival

9 93. Each of the Paragraphs of this Complaint is incorporated as if fully 10 stated herein.

11 94. In the manner described more fully above, Defendant Nelson’s fatal
12 gunshots ultimately caused the death of Isaiah Obet.

13 95. The misconduct described in this count was intentional and 14 undertaken with malice, willfulness, and reckless indifference to the rights of 15 others.

16 96. The Defendant Officers’ actions as described in this Complaint were a 17 substantial factor in bringing about the injuries described in this Count, and 18 without those actions, these injuries would not have occurred.

19 97. As a result of these actions, the Estate of Isaiah Obet incurred severe 20 economic damages, including burial and funeral expenses, permanent loss of 21 decedent’s earning power, as well as general damages to the decedents estate.

22 98. This Count is brought by the Estate of Isaiah Obet, by personal
23 representative Slaughter Obet.

Count VI—State Law, Wrongful Death

2 99. Each of the Paragraphs of this Complaint is incorporated as if fully
3 stated herein.

4 100. In the manner more fully described above, Defendant Nelson
5 intentionally and unjustifiably caused the death of Isaiah Obet. Isaiah Obet
6 therefore (as alleged by counts I-V above) a valid claim for damages against 7 Defendant Nelson at the time of his death.

8 101. As a consequence, Plaintiff Slaughter Obet suffered, and continues to 9 suffer, significant emotional distress and harm, including but not limited to the loss
10 of society and companionship with Isaiah Obet.

11 102. The misconduct described in this Count was intentional and 12 undertaken with malice, willfulness, and reckless indifference to the rights of 13 others.

14 103. This Count is brought by the Estate of Isaiah Obet, by personal
15 representative Slaughter Obet, and by Slaughter Obet on his own behalf.

Count VIII—State Law, Outrage

16
17 104. Each paragraph of this Complaint is incorporated as if restated fully 18 herein.

19 105. In the manner described more fully above, by causing the death of 20 Isaiah Obet, the Defendants intended to cause both physical and emotional distress.

21 106. In so doing, Defendant Nelson's conduct was extreme and outrageous 22 and caused Isaiah Obet severe, disabling physical distress, emotional distress, and 23 ultimately death.

24 107. The misconduct described in this Count was intentional and 25 undertaken with malice, willfulness, and reckless indifference to the rights of 26 others.

27

2 representative Slaughter Obet.

3 Count VIII—State Law, Indemnification

4 109. Each paragraph of this Complaint is incorporated as if restated fully 5 herein.

6 110. In committing the acts alleged in the preceding paragraphs,
7 Defendant Nelson acted at all relevant times within the scope of his employment for 8 City of Auburn.

10 the Defendant Officer for any judgment against him.

11 Count IX— *Respondeat Superior

12 112. Each paragraph of this Complaint is incorporated as if restated fully 13 herein.

14 113. In committing the acts alleged in the preceding paragraphs,
15 Defendant Nelson acted at all relevant times within the scope of their employment
16 for City of Auburn.

17 114. Defendant City of Auburn, as principal, is liable for all torts, including 18 Counts III-VI above, committed by its agents. City of Auburn, as principal, should 19 also be liable for the constitutional violations committed by its officers, pursuant to 20 the common law as understood in 1871, and because by law and City ordinance it is 21 wholly responsible for providing the defense of individual Defendant Officers and 22 for indemnifying them against any judgment or verdict that may result.

25
